

EVEN A SPIDER CAN'T GET PICKLED UNDER DRY LAW

Woman With Collection of Insects Unable to Get Alcohol to Preserve Them.

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—Mrs. W. S. Moffatt is bitterly denouncing Prohibition. Some women preserve peaches and pears, but in her beautiful home in Wheaton Mrs. Moffatt preserves spiders. For ten years she has been collecting spiders. They have come from Java, Japan, Central and South America. Now she wants 2,500 ounces of alcohol to pickle her pets. The old alcohol has evaporated. She cannot get the fluid because of the law and her collection is going to decay.

"Think of it," she said to-day, "the injustice of it. Just because the Government is afraid some dipsomaniac will put alcohol in his grape juice I am denied the drug for scientific purposes. The Government allows the use of denatured alcohol in seven different ways, three of which seemed to have possibilities. I tried all, but they would not do."

DIGGING FOR SMALL'S BODY.

Stage Hands Excavate Under Grand Theatre in Toronto.

TORONTO, Dec. 2.—Excavation was being made to-day under the Grand Theatre in search of the body of Ambrose J. Small, long missing theatrical manager. Stage hands, under the direction of Detective Sgt. Austin Mitchell, will be kept busy digging up the earth under the auditorium until it is definitely established that Small's body is not hidden there, it was said. Police officials have hitherto held to the theory that Small is still alive and held for ransom.
